Big Oil Output.
Bonville No. 4 well, in the Turner valley, 45 miles southwest of Calgary, is steadily increasing its huge production of high grade naphtha, as official figures on the August 31 report from the well disclosed. The figures are based on the actual shipments of oil from the Black Diamond plant of the company to Okotoks and show that the total shipped during August was 10,000 imperial gallons. This total, however, includes approximately 12,000 gallons of naphtha produced by the Thompson plant from the same well, so that the net total shipped from the Bonville plant during August was 10,000 imperial gallons. At 35 imperial gallons to the barrel this is approximately 250,000 barrels for August or 645 barrels per day.

IMPROVING LABOR CONDITIONS

Since the first International Labor Conference was held in Washington in 1919, its different drafts and resolutions agreed upon at that conference have been ratified by more than 100 countries participating. Many of the members of the League of Nations have also ratified three of the draft conventions agreed upon at the second conference and seven of the conventions of the third session.

All of these conventions afford a basis of measuring the humanitarian trend of popular sentiment throughout the world since the first conference.

World's Weekly of Varieties, a weekly movement toward legislation designed to protect the laboring man, most of which may justly be said to be good inasmuch as it has been designed not to injure the employer while aiding the employee. That there might have been a feeling of sentiment sufficient to have biased legislation in favor of labor is not inconceivable, as employment since the World War has not "decidedly" declined. England alone has 10,000 unemployed at one time. And the number out of work and consequently out of territory funds on the continent of Europe was in every way comparable.

The industrial slump, as a matter of fact, began in the Orient in 1920 and from there seemed to spread gradually all over the world.

The United States did not by any means escape its depressing influence. The distress in its wake was sufficient to warrant a radical trend in labor legislation. That such was avoided in the United States is in small measure the stabilizing influence of the international Labor Conference.

The designing of draft conventions to meet a world-wide situation is much more sobering than if legislation had been attempted by domestic to meet its own individual problems. It has been noted, therefore, that the international movement has aimed pretty generally at two main results: (1) To effect uniform wages and uniform labor conditions in all countries; (2) To effect a world-wide regulation of labor so that as and would be put to reasonable employment. If the former aim could be attained, the latter manifest results would be to check the unhealthy and abnormal nature of unemployment in the world and equalize industrial activities as between nations, making a national wealth dependent upon its natural resources and its volume of labor.

And if the latter were brought to pass there would result a more even employment of labor, which would mean that the world would put on an even keel.

It is quite commonly recognized by economists that this labor program is a fair one; hence there is a general tendency among them to support it for purely economic reasons. That such is the case is indicative of the fact that humanitarian intentions can go hand in hand with capitalist profits. It is just as true that a nation can be benefited by a country at the same time. If that were not the case the draft conventions mentioned above would have been not so soon ratified.

THE SALT OF STATE

Communists, gathered in London to annoy members of the British Royal family, were dispersed by royal citizens, says a cable dispatch.

It is unfortunate that the political forces of the unholy creed called Communism should aim at the destruction of an institution that has been a true friend of the life of Great Britain.

The Rev. A. W. H. Kelly, of the Valley and Thomson, preached the sermon. The Rev. Peter McNab addressed the congregation and gave wise counsel on their duties to the church and to the world.

The Rev. Mr. Merrick, rector of Christ's church was also present and welcomed Mr. Whitman to Macleod.

Moore, Primrose and Robertson of the Anglican church, the Rev. Mr. McKellar, moderator, accepted the chair and the Rev. A. W. H. Whitman, as clerk of the Presbytery, presented the docket of business.

The Presbytery met in St. Andrew's church on Friday evening, Sept. 18th, and inducted the Rev. A. W. H. Whitman, D.D., to the pastoral charge of St. Andrew's church in Macleod. There was a large attendance of the members and adherents present. The Rev. Dr. McKellar, moderator, accepted the chair and the Rev. A. W. H. him to fight and die for a set of cold statistics.

In England, royalty is the salt of state. It is not inconceivable, as the consumption of the imagination, Government without drama and pageant is a flat and ineffective religion without a god.

SAFETY IN KISSES

American National Safety Council issues its latest bulletin from Chicago and from there seemed to spread gradually all over the world.

GOOD RECIPES.

Stuffed Cucumber.
Select firm, even cucumbers and wash them, taking off as little of the surface skin as possible. Place the cucumbers on a greased baking dish and sprinkle the tops with pepper, salt, lemon juice and butter. Bake the cucumbers in a moderate oven until they are transparent. Pour the vegetables with a sharp fork. If the fork comes out without a trace of resistance, the cucumbers are ready to eat.

Buttered Cauliflower.
Wash a good sized cauliflower and break it into sprigs. Put these into boiling salted water and boil a minute or two. Do not over cook the sprigs which should be rather firm. Drain and leave the cauliflower to cool for four tablespoons of fresh butter.

Spiced Pear Pie.
Peel, quarter and core enough of pears to fill a pie. Fill a crust-lined pie plate. Put a cup of sugar, a teaspoon of cinnamon, the juice of a large lemon, a saltspoon each of clove, cinnamon, ginger and allspice and a quarter cup of water. Mix and cook this mixture for three minutes, then thicken it slightly with a teaspoon each of butter and flour rubbed to a paste. Turn the sauce over the pears, add the top crust and bake the pie in the usual way.

Egg Tomato.
Four large tomatoes, four eggs, eight tablespoons cream, butter, salt and pepper. Dip tomatoes in boiling water and remove skins. Cut a slice off the top of each tomato. Remove seeds. Break an egg in each tomato. Fill with cream. Cover with the slices. Put tomatoes in buttered pans and bake 10 to 15 minutes in a hot oven. Remove tops, season with salt and pepper and a dot of butter. Serve at once.

Spiced Grapes.
Spiced grapes are a good relish and are prepared by slipping seven pounds of grapes from their stalks. Put the pulp over a moderate heat in a white-lined saucepan, simmer until softened and press through a sieve fine enough to keep back the seeds. Add this strained pulp to the skins, with four pounds of sugar, one pint of vinegar, one grated nutmeg, one and a half tablespoons of ground cloves. Let the whole mixture simmer slowly until quite thick and store when cold as jelly.

Fried Corn.
Six ears sweet corn, two slices bacon, two tablespoons milk, pepper.

POOR STELLA.
There was a young woman named Stella,
Fell in love with a low-legged fellow.
This low-legged fellow
Let her on his hip,
And she fell right through to the cells.

BUY THE SPEND YOUR MONEY IN MACLEOD

Purchases representing thousands of dollars are lost to us, for our trade, to our clerks and employees, to our laborers and artisans, to all the people of Macleod who exist on the products of their work. This money, if spent at home, would help to recreate Macleod financially, give a wider field of activities in business, would be helpful to every resident of this town.

If we purchased regularly from local merchants, this money would circulate in Macleod in a welcome manner. Our merchants merit our patronage; it is to our interest, and the duty of all of us, to encourage the local merchant. He is one of us, he lives among us, he has the right to be encouraged by us, he is anxious to have our custom, and to give us satisfaction. We should under all circumstances give him preference, price for price, quality for quality. And nearly always the price that our local merchant asks is, if we compare the quality, just as cheap as that of the outside merchant.

Never purchase merchandise by catalogue from foreign houses before assuring yourself that you cannot procure the same articles, of the same quality (and frequently of better quality) at the same price from your local merchant.

GENERAL MERCHANTS, GROCERIES, FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—BOOTS, SHOES AND CLOTHING

After our advertisement last week, we have come to the conclusion that the Macleod want is a series of her factory and general appearance on the street. The material of the Women's Winter Combination was so tempting, and the price below all reason, but all of them were not sold. There was no rush to buy them. People are too well off to want fashions. These combinations were Full Dress Style, and are very fetching. They were offered to you for $1.50 per suit. Long Silk Sweaters reaching to the knees cost as over $10.00. You refused them at $5.00. They were cheap enough to make over for the growing girls. Then Women's Red and Blue Plaid Midlids, with some white trimmed with blue, size 40. White Pique, for $12.50. We are expecting every day Ladies' Hole Proof Hosiery, with shades to suit your taste. Little Kids' White Canvas Shoes, nice and comfortable for the home. 50c a pair.

It will pay you to come and look round one week.
